BERLIN MAN FATALLY INJURED AT NW. BETHEL

Alphonse Fontaine of Berlin died at the St. Louis Hospital Saturday afternoon from injuries received that afternoon when struck in the head by a rolling log. He was working in the woods at Northwest Bethel when the accident occurred. Mr. Fontaine was 23 years old and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Genevieve Fontaine, a son, his parents, six brothers and two sisters.

MAINE SEED GROWING INDUSTRY INCREASING

A little-publicized industry—the production of garden and field seeds is returning a neat profit to some 325 farmers in Central Maine and simultaneously contributing immeasurably to the nation's war effort.

Contracts have already been made with 325 farmers in 62 towns in Central Maine to grow 1800 acres of string beans for seed this year, officials of the Chas. C. Hart Seed Company, specialists and breeders of seeds, announced at their Newport office.

Likewise the Company is growing approximately 27 acres of Ebenezer onions for seed on one of its own farms in nearby Palmyra, which the Government has contracted for to ship to allied countries in its Lend-Lease program.

Rapid expansion has been made in seed operations in Maine through commercial contracts with farmers, jumping from 50 acres of beans for seed in 1932 to 900 acres in 1941 and reaching the new high of 1800 acres this year.

Nearly 2,000,000 pounds of beans are expected to be delivered to the Hart plant this fall, which will bring an approximate return of $160,000 to the producing farmers.

GAS FIRE DAMAGES SERVICE STATION

Dick Young's Railroad Street Service Station was damaged to the extent of about $500 last Thursday afternoon when flames spread over the front of the buildings. The blaze started when a spark from a portable electric pump, which was removing gasoline from an unused tank, ignited the gas. The damage was confined to the outside of the building. Work of repairing the damage is nearly completed.

Warren Bean suffered severe burns on the right hand and forearm while disconnecting the pump, but is now making a good recovery.

The service station property, formerly the Robertson Service Station, is now owned by Corp. Richard Young, Camp Meade, Md.

IRVING L. CARVER

Townpeople are grieved to learn of the death of Irving L. Carver this morning at the Central Maine General Hospital. He underwent surgery there on Tuesday of last week and had been in very serious condition for several days.

Mr. Carver, was born in Jonesport June 16, 1886, the son of Captain Judson H. and Carrie Woodward Carver, and was educated in common schools of that town and Jonesport High School.

He came to Bethel nearly 40 years ago and was employed in the general store of Edwin C. Rowe. After Mr. Rowe's death in 1909, he continued the business for several years, and about 20 years ago engaged in the wholesale oil business. Mr. Carver has been distributor of Shell oil products, the business now covering much of Franklin and Cumberland Counties.

Mr. Carver has been prominent in oil circles, being for years an official of the Maine Independent Oil Dealers association, and at the time of his death was a director of the Independent Oil Men's Association of New England.

He was a valued citizen, a gentleman with a sincere interest in all that related to public welfare. He was a member of the Lions Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the troop committee of the Boy Scouts, and a trustee of Gould Academy. An active member of the Democratic party, he was a candidate for State Senator in the coming election. He was a member of Bethel Lodge, F. and A. M., and Kora Temple.

In 1924 Mr. Carver married Miss Ruth Homsted of Skowhegan, who survives. Besides his wife he is 32 SWORN INTO STATE GUARD RESERVE MON.

There is every prospect of the formation of a full company of the State Guard Reserve in Bethel since 32 members were sworn in at the regular drill meeting on Monday evening. Several others who had signed up were not present so that about 40 are already assured.

All who are interested in taking part in the organization of this company should be present at the meeting next Monday evening at the Grange Hall.

IRELAND HAS PART IN PANEL DISCUSSION AT U. OF N. H.

Elwood F. Ireland, headmaster of Gould Academy, attended the fifth annual guidance institute conducted by the University of New Hampshire in Murkland Hall, Durham, N. H., on Tuesday and Wednesday. Discussions at the Institute were discussed primarily upon a solution of the problems confronting education as a result of the war.

Headmaster Ireland took part in the panel discussions on "The Small High School and Academy" Tuesday afternoon, the theme of which was how the small high school can contribute to the National Defense Program.

He survived by four children, Priscilla, Lee, Nancy and Catherine; his father, Captain Carver of Jonesport; an aunt, Mrs. Ella Mansfield, and a cousin, Mrs. Paul Badger, both of Portsmouth, N. H.

Funeral services will be held at Greenleaf's funeral home at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

A WEEK of The WAR

Rationing

The WPB reported 2,736 trucks, truck trailers and miscellaneous vehicles were released to civilians and to holders of Government Exemption Permits during the week ended July 11. Since March 9, when the rationing program became effective, almost 52,000 vehicles in all categories have been released to these two groups. The OPA authorized local War Price and Rationing Boards to permit use of any reasonable amount of sugar for home canning, providing four quarts of fruit will be canned with each pound of sugar.

The War Front

A communique from Cairo, Egypt, reported Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, formerly commander of the U. S. Army Air Forces in India, is now commander of the U. S. Air Forces in the Middle East. Gen. Brereton said American heavy bombers carried out 21 tactical missions in 36 days with the loss of only three U. S. planes. The Navy announced 13 Japanese ships have been sunk or damaged since June 3 in Aleutian waters, and at least seven enemy aircraft have been destroyed. The Navy said U. S. casualties in that theater to date are approximately 44 military and naval personnel killed, 49 wounded and one civilian employee killed.

The Navy reported damage inflicted on the enemy during the battle of Midway June 3 to June 6 included approximately 4,800 Japanese killed or drowned as compared to U. S. losses of 92 officers and 215 enlisted men; 20 enemy ships of all classifications sunk or damaged; and an estimated 275 Japanese carrier Yorktown was put out of action and the destroyer Hammann was torpedoed and sunk. Caribbean Defense Commander Andrews said "measures for action against enemy submarines in this area apparently are proving very effective" and anti-aircraft warning systems are greatly improved in the Panama Canal Zone. The Navy announced the sinking of 20 more United Nations merchant vessels by enemy submarines.

Foreign Relations President Roosevelt formally proclaimed a state of war with Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria, making nationals of those countries residing in the U. S. subject to regulations governing other enemy aliens. The President announced Lend-Lease war aid extended by the U. S. from March 11, 1941—when the program began—to June 30, 1942, amounted to $5,205 million of which the June total was $708 million, highest monthly total in the 16 months of the program. The State department said the U. S. has signed mutual aid agreements with Czechoslovakia and Norway, bringing to nine the number of such agreements. The Department also announced the Vichy French government has turned town two offers by President Roosevelt to provide a safe haven for the French naval units now at Alexandria, Egypt.

Army and Selective Service The Army Air Forces' present accident rate is 68 percent lower than in 1930 and 10 percent lower than the average rate for the 10 years between 1930 and 1940, War Secretary Stimson said. Mr. Stimson said every U. S. soldier going into the theater of operations will receive a package of five grams of crystalline sulfanilamide for wounds in addition to 12 sulfanilamide tablets for internal use.

Army Air Forces Commander Arnold announced formation of the Troop Carrier Command charged with transporting by air the fighting men and their weapons and supplies in theaters of operations.

SS Headquarters authorized local boards to defer married men until all available single men, including those in war jobs, have been called and to call men with children last. President Roosevelt said it is unlikely a decision will be made any time soon on the drafting of 18 and 19 year old youths for military service. SS Director Hershey said local boards may fill up to 10 percent of their quotas from men deferred because of illiteracy but who are otherwise fit for military service.

Navy and Shipping Three new destroyers were launched at the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., Kearney, N. J. Navy Secretary Knox said an increasing number of small boats, mainly fishing vessels are being taken over by the Navy, and crews are being trained as fast as possible to augment east coast anti-submarine patrol. Maritime Commission Vice Chairman Vickery said American merchant shipbuilding capacity is now ample to meet the two-year goal of 23,000,000 deadweight tons—approximately 2,300 set by President Roosevelt early this year. He said July shipbuilding figures indicate the nation is 2,000,000 tons ahead of schedule for 1942. Because of the "tight situation" in steel, however, the Maritime Commission said further plant expansion programs must be curtailed. For this reason the Commission canceled its contracts with the Higgins Corporation of New Orleans calling for 200 Liberty ships.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare

"As a nation, Americans haven't been fighting this war—not by" long shot," said Life recently. "A comparative handful of boys and officers have been fighting bravely and eagerly. But at home the fighting hasn't even begun. Most of America is earning big money, eating well, rolling up new betting records at the horse races, dashing around the country on rubber that is absolutely irreplaceable... Meanwhile the Axis rushes in, rings us with steel, accumulates real bases all over the world."

That is a pretty tough statement, but the facts certainly bear it out. The incredible optimism concerning the war that still seems to prevail in some quarters is not shared by real military men. As General Somervell, the Army's chief of supply, said in a 4th of July speech at Detroit, the United Nations have taken a terrific shelling in every corner of the world. And most of us, he added, have no idea of the magnitude and difficulty of the job that lies ahead. The hard truth is that Hitler and his brother dictators have done more to change the map of the world than any conquerors in modern history.

The Russians showed great valor in the defense of Sevastopol. They were hopelessly outnumbered in both men and equipment, and after the first few days the Luftwaffe had command of the skies. The Red Army made the Germans pay, tremendously for their victory and, according to the Moscow account, Sevastopol was left a pile of useless ruins. But Sevastopol was a vital position, and its loss is extremely important. Now Germany can release many battle-trained soldiers for service elsewhere. Sevastopol is a key point in Hitler's drive to seize the oil resources of the Caucasus, and to shatter the U. S. supply line to Russia. That is why the German commanders figured it must be taken, no matter how great the cost.

At this time, it is impossible to explain the British defeat in Libya—the facts are not available, and the Cairo censorship has been complete. As Mr. Churchill frankly admitted, the British had the edge in numbers and in arms. The fate of Libya was settled on a single day—when 300 heavy British tanks went into action, and only 70 were left at nightfall. No comparable losses, Mr. Churchill said, were inflicted on the enemy. Rommel seems to have lured the British into a trap. The British commanders seemed confident that Rommel could not fight an offensive action in the desert heat. But Rommel did.

As yet, we have not fully appreciated the extraordinary fanaticism of Axis leaders and troops. With them it is "win or die." They take incredible chances. They fight under the worst climatic and geographical conditions. They violate classic rules of warfare. The commanders are, apparently, completely callous when it comes to shedding the blood of their compatriots. These Axis hordes can be compared in many respects to the brutal hordes of Genghis Khan. To stop them, to defeat them, will require a comparable fanaticism, held in a very different cause, on the part of all the United Nations.

From the U. S. point of view, the Jap landing in the Aleutians cannot be passed off casually, as some optimists have tried to do. It is true that a few rock islands, shrouded in fog, off the tip of Alaska, aren't important in themselves. It is also true that Aleutian and Alaskan outposts could be used for devastating raids on the U. S. proper. General Billy Mitchell once said, in effect, that whoever controls Alaska would win the next war. There is no reason to suppose that the Japs raided Dutch Harbor and seized remote Attu and Kiska just for the sake of what military men call a diversion. The Jap commanders have shown, all along, that everything they do is part of a carefully-prepared plan, and that everything has a bearing on their grand strategy. It will be hard to drive the Japs out of their Aleutian footholds. The Axis is seeking to encircle this country now, and it has made gigantic progress. That circle must be broken.

Some of the best news is found in ship production figures. Records are being made so fast in leading shipyards, especially the West Coast's Kaiser yards, that it is hard to keep up with them. One yard recently completed a 10,800 ton Liberty ship in 40 days.

At the same time, some experts doubt that the overseas transport problem can be solved by ships alone. Major de Neversky, for instance, looks forward to the time when a great part of our supplies men and equipment, will be flown to their destinations in air transports of considerable size. This, he argues is the best way to answer the U-boats—to take our shipping off the seas and put it in the air. Then the submarines can prowls about the oceans from now on, without finding anything to destroy.

To build such air transports in quantity would be a tremendous job, piled on top of all the other tremendous jobs that the war demands. But it may happen, if the war goes on as long as many authorities seem to think. A merchant ship, for instance, can make only three or four round trips a year to Australia—air transports could make fifty trips or more. Their advocates say they could be armored to the point where they would be flying battleships, virtually safe from fighter-plane attack.

NAGGING BACKACHE

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!

Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, etc., keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. Throatier effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.

After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.

Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

THE REASON DOAN'S ARE FAMOUS
All over the country grateful people tell others: "Doan's have helped me; I recommend them to you." That is why we say, Ask your neighbor!

The 10 POINT PLAN

TO HELP GIVE YOUR CAR

an extra year of youth.

By T. S. BLAIR, well-known Automotive Engineer

2. THE COOLING SYSTEM

If it were not for the cooling system, the heat generated in the manufacture of power would quickly destroy the engine. The system is not self-sufficient; scale and rust deposits form in the ordinary course of operation and, without proper attention, will clog and stop circulation. Because of vibration, the many connections and fittings are likely to loosen and cause leaks. Hoses and fan belts will deteriorate in time and need replacing. Regular inspection and service are vital.

FACTS

THERMOSTATS control the temperature of the water at the proper degree; if your gauge shows excessive heat, stop and check for trouble. SPECIAL THERMOSTAT ADJUSTMENT is necessary when operating cars at high altitudes. ANTI-FREEZE mixtures are not alike. Different brands of the same "type" require larger or smaller amounts to protect at a given temperature. They will boil off at different temperatures. Some do not contain anti-rust ingredients.

SERVICING

Spend an extra minute when you buy gasoline, and permit your dealer to check the water. It's time well spent.

Twice a year, in the Spring and Fall, have the system cleaned and checked.

Replace hose and fan belt when necessary.

Repack water pump when necessary.

This is the second of a series of articles on the care of your car.

EAST BETHEL

Misses Alice and Barbara Bartlett of Rumford Center were last week's guest of her aunt, Mrs. Gladys Tyler, and family.

Miss Patsy O'Brien of Bethel was the guest of Miss Barbara Hastings several days last week. Master Edward Hastings visited his cousin, David Tamminen, in Yarmouth last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Holt and daughter, Nancy, of Neponset, Mass., arrived Monday of last week to spend two weeks with Mrs. H. L. Holt and Mrs. W. B. Bartlett.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hastings, Miss Barbara Hastings, Mrs. Leslie Noyes, Mrs. John Howe and E. W. Dutton were in South Paris and Norway Friday. Miss Barbara Hastings went from there to Hebron where she is the guest of Miss Mary Sue Adams until Wednesday of this week.

Wednesday, the Lucky Clover and Snappy Eight 4-H Clubs held a joint club tour and picnic. At 10 o'clock the crowd gathered, with Mrs. Gladys Tyler, Mrs. Ruth Hastings and Mrs. Edith Howe as drivers of the three cars, at Caroline and George Olson's where Caroline has sewing, garden and cucumbers for projects and George has calf and a garden. From there down onto the intervalle where Barbara Hastings and Billy have a garden and string beans. Then up to Adelle Kimball's where she exhibited her sewing. Virginia Hastings exhibited sewing and her string beans, and Barbara showed 12 pints of strawberries as the first of her canning project. Lendall Nevens had some good looking potatoes where the high water hadn't washed them out. Gail Curtis exhibited her cooking and house-keeping records and Marilyn and Carolyn Noyes their sewing and Carolyn's garden before we stopped to go swimming in the big hole in Otter Brook back of Guy Bartlett's. After a picnic lunch under the big elm beside the Noyes home the tour started again by going to Virgil Curtis' and viewing his helper calf by chasing it down into the pasture. Then back to Fuller's bank where Freeman Merrill had a large garden. We had to go down onto the intervalle again to view Marilyn Noyes' string beans and then ended our tour at Tyler's where Clare and Edith had sewing and string beans and Clare around 30 jars of strawberries she had canned. Everyone enjoyed the day although rather cool for swimming and all agreed club tours help keep weeds down and all thought there ought to be a tour more often during the summer months as all work hard to get their gardens in A1 shape to be viewed.

Howard Fales of Dorchester, Mass., arrived Monday evening to spend the remainder of his summer vacation with Mr. and Mrs. John Howe.

The pumper and crew were at the brook by Willis Bartlett's and J. C. Bartlett's Monday evening and did some work on a reservoir there for use in case of fires.

Miss Rita Reed of Byron is this week's guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Ida Blake.

Mr. and Mrs. Marston of South Paris were week-end guests of their daughter, Mrs. Carroll Curtis, and family.

Sunday guests of Mrs. S. B. Newton were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Averill and granddaughter, Gloria Hutchins, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Falkenham of Andover.

Mrs. S. B. Newton has received word that her son, Eugene Burns, has left Miami Beach, Fla., and is now stationed in Kansas City, Mo., attending the National School of Aeronautics.

G. L. Haines, Mrs. Burton Abbott, Mrs. Leslie Noyes, Marilyn and Carolyn Noyes were in Hanover last Thursday calling on Mrs. Lillian Russ, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Russ and son who are visiting Mrs. Mandy Lapham.

SUSAN THAYER

THE WORLD'S GREAT LARDER

Did anything ever bring such satisfying surcease to hunger as properly fried chicken? Lay a piece of chicken, fresh from the frying pan, covered with crisp brown crust, on a big dinner plate. Plop down beside it a heap of fluffy white mashed potatoes and a helping of fresh green peas. Add contrast, in taste and color, with a spoonful of currant jelly, red as the fruit itself. Then pass the gravy made in the frying pan with milk, thickened with flour, and studded with bits of liver and gizzard. There, my friends, is food fit for the gods themselves! a combination in which a dozen wholesome flavors are subtly blended to produce perfect satisfaction!

Any one who's lived in the South or Middle West knows what I'm talking about. Others who contend that young chicken should be cooked under the broiler or broast of fancy French methods have something yet to learn. And this is the summer to learn it. For the poultry producers of this country, like our manufacturers, have stepped production up to almost unbelievable levels and young, fryable chickens are so plentiful they'll be the Department of Agriculture's "Victory Special" from July 15 to 26.

Last year was a record hatch year. But word went out to the farmers that still more chickens and eggs are needed, so the hatch this year is 16% higher than last. This means that 50 million more hens are on the job this year, producing so many eggs that we can send 3 million dozen overseas every day and still not miss them.

The farmers of the United States like the manufacturers, have never known how much they could produce because they never had a market that demanded the limit. Now the lid is off. Now they can really step on it and results are amazing.

Today we're producing enough food to send billions of pounds to our allies... and to feed a great army, better than any army has ever been fed before, and still eat pretty well at home thank you. So far, sugar is the only food that's been rationed. They say coffee and certain other things may be rationed soon. But even so we'll have plenty to eat and send overseas because this is the United States—a country in which nature and man cooperate to produce as mankind has never produced before!

The tools of war pour from our factories, making this the "Arsenal of Democracy." At the same time, the farmers and food processors are making it the world's great larder!

FOR OLD RECORDS

Until midnight, August 2, a nation wide campaign is on for the collection of old records, to bring new ones to every American camp, base, port, station, naval vessel, transport or wherever there are troops or sailors of the U. S. throughout the world.

These old records will be sold as scrap the proceeds an estimated $937,500 will be used to buy new records (at factory cost) and phonograph players.

This movement got under way early last month after a group of musical artists explored ways and means of bringing entertainment to our sailors, soldiers, marines & airmen.

May we urge everyone to pass this word along to neighbors and friends and see how much we can help—Not one of us but has a friend if not a son, husband, brother or other relative in the armed forces and how we want to help give them any pleasure or entertainment that we can.

Let's show them we are thinking of them. We know they are thinking of us!

When you come in to town for your supplies just leave the old records on any Legion man's doorstep and they'll be taken care of. We hope to have some collection barrels or boxes in some of the stores.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

HOW TO SEE PICTURES

Develop a sincere interest in people, study the work of other photographers, and work toward a definite objective, and you'll soon find it's easy to make excellent snapshots like this.

JUST the other day a friend of mine who is interested in photography came to me with a question.

"What's all this business about being able to see pictures?" he asked. "Is it something abstract, or is it a definite ability which any photographer can develop?"

Well, I assured him that there is such a thing as an ability to see pictures, and any photographer who wants to develop it can do so in short order. There are just three simple steps.

First, you must study people because you will have to draw upon them for many of your picture subjects. Learn to look upon your friends and acquaintances, as well as people in public, with an appraising eye. Watch the things they do, note the way they sit, walk, talk, and note the effect of light on them from various angles. It will be an interesting experiment, and photographically profitable if you try to determine when your subjects would make the best pictures.

Next, study other pictures and try to equal or surpass them. You'll find good material in the popular picture magazines, the photographic magazines, and even general or fashion publications. By studying them you'll keep up with what others are doing, and you'll certainly get many ideas you might apply to your own photography.

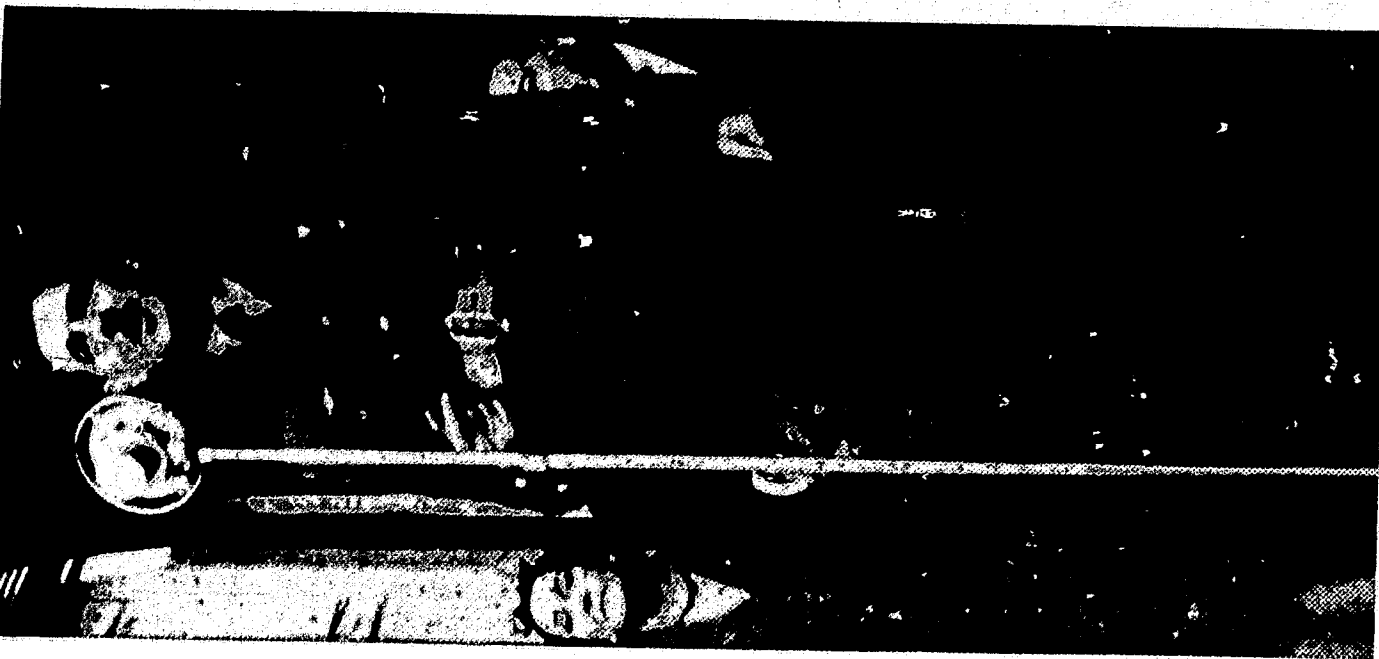

Finally, I'd suggest that you give yourself a picture-making objective. That may seem to have no connection with your ability to see pictures, but the point is that when you give yourself something definite to accomplish—or use your camera as a means of telling a story in pictures—then you will find that you "see" pictures far more readily than if you have no particular purpose in mind.

Give yourself an objective today, and start shooting!

"FRANCE HAS LOST A BATTLE; FRANCE HAS NOT LOST THE WAR"

TO THE French people the 14th of July, Bastille Day, is as much a symbol of liberty as the 4th of July is to us. Like us, the French are a mixed people. There is little in common racially between a Breton and a Provencal, or a Basque and a Lorrainer. But over the centuries the French have proved again and again that they were united by the same burning love of freedom that united this country in 1776, in 1917 and in 1942. Joan of Arc rallied this French love of freedom in the Hundred Years War. Lafayette put it at this country's service during the American Revolution. The men of the French Revolution proved it to a European coalition that crumbled at the sound of the "Marseillaise." At Verdun and the Marne they proved it again to the bewildered Germans. On this July 14th the soldiers of General de Gaulle and the 40,000,000 Frenchmen in France who fight with Joan of Arc's Lorraine cross on their flag or resist the Nazi invaders at home once again show the world how Frenchmen fight for freedom.

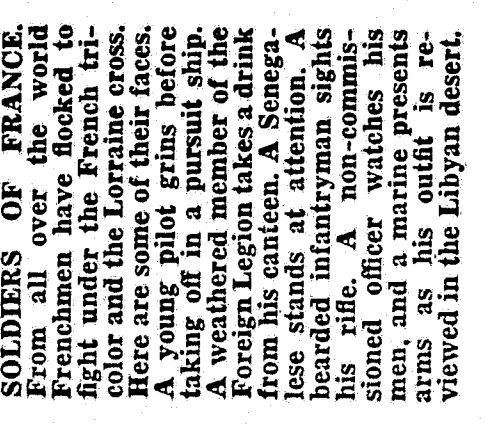

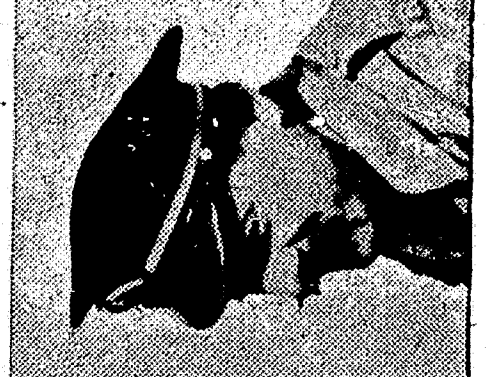

Those who stayed at home are fighting a continual underground battle with the Nazis and the Vichy collaborationists. To cheer them on the Free French publish "Le Courrier de l'Air," which is distributed from R.A.F. bombers flying over France and which gives Frenchmen latest news from London and U.S.

to fight on and drive the German invaders from their land. The proclamation ended "France has lost a battle; France has not lost the war," and the French proved it to the hilt. Many French boys, like those shown above, fled in small boats across the Channel to enlist with the Free French Forces.

WHEN THE NAZIS marched into Paris and Field Marshal Goeing scuttled beneath the Arc de Triomphe, many people thought that France's resistance had ended. But they were wrong. From London General Charles de Gaulle issued his now-famous proclamation urging the people of France

HUNDREDS OF HOSTAGES, like this young boy whom the Nazis murdered at Vincennes, have been executed in Occupied France as a reprisal for resistance and sabotage.

SOLDIERS OF FRANCE. From all over the world Frenchmen have flocked to fight under the French tricolor and the Lorraine cross. Here are some of their faces. A young pilot grins before taking off in a pursuit ship. A weathered member of the Foreign Legion takes a drink from his canteen. A Senegalese stands at attention. A bearded infantryman sights his rifle. A non-communist officer watches his men, and a marine presents arms as his outfit is reviewed in the Libyan desert.

Business and social stationery, or any form of printed matter, is an accurate reflection of the taste and standing of any person or company. Thus it behooves one to see that all their needs in this line are cared for correctly.

In many cases good printing costs but little if any more than slipshod work. Workmanship, choice of paper and typography are matters which depend very much upon experience, and this experience often leads to economies of production which may result in lower prices for superior results.

Picnic and Porch Parties
DON'T tell me that a gasoline line has put a damper on picnics. There's always your own backyard or a cool, shady porch, and it's the "eat" that makes the picnic anyway.

Piping hot picnics are a novelty—just ask the menfolk. Baked ham and cold potatoes, baked beans and brown bread, hot fried chicken, hamburgers, and a cold drink—all can be prepared in advance in the roaster-oven. Just bundle it up in a blanket and the food will be hot for you.

With a one-dish meal, you can serve about thirty persons.

There is a vacation hint in this for both landlubbers and beach-combers. Take the roaster along. Wherever there is electricity for household use, and a handy light socket, it's right at home. At

SUMMER BREEZES
FROM THE PARISH

We had two guest preachers in the Parish last Sunday. Rev. David Anderson, of Virginia, preached at North Waterford; and Rev. George Owen, D. D., of Hyde Park, Mass., preached the sermon at Center Lovell, kindly consenting to help Mr. Duke who has been troubled for the past week with a case of laryngitis. There was a good congregation at Center Lovell. With the Kokosing girls on one side of the Church, and the Passaconaway boys on the other side, there was also a good congregation at Waterford. Yet there is room for still others at the Parish services. To miss the services this summer is to miss an opportunity to worship with your friends and with neighbors who are not here the year round. Mr. Hastings, of Camp Passaconaway is playing the organ at Waterford this summer, and on Sunday he was assisted at the piano by Mr. Callahan, of the same camp. A piano and organ duet was greatly appreciated.

The Vacation School at Waterford is now in full swing, and very well attended. We appreciate the help in transportation kindly offered by Miss Edith Carson of Konewago. A large delegation comes from East Waterford, and other parts of the town are well represented, by quality, when it is not quantity. We are happy to hear that yesterday morning was held the first session of a Vacation school for beginners, held at Center Lovell, in charge of Miss Pearl Allen. That sounds good, and we also hear that the Albany children are going to have a weekly school, starting next Tuesday, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Pickett.

Tuesday afternoon a large number of the Center Lovell Ladies met at the Vestry to sew for their Fair. They will also meet again next Tuesday. Now, just write this down in your date book in red letters: The Center Lovell Fair will be held on August Seventh.

Then turn the page and using the same colored pencil write down for August Thirteenth the East Stoneham Fair.

There will be a dance at the Town House at Center Lovell, Friday evening of this week to raise funds for the U. S. O. Drive in that town.

The Services of worship, Sunday morning, at the usual hours! You are cordially invited.

WEST BETHEL UNION CHAPEL
Rev. Don Fife, Minister

Having passed the half-way mark last Sunday in our Summer Church activity with a very successful Family Rally Day, we now look ahead to find but seven weeks more during which time our "beautiful chapel" will be open for worship. Records show that our average attendance so far for our 11 o'clock services has been 33, and for the evening vesper meetings, 28. This is an excellent showing, and the loyal worshippers are to be commended for such. It is our sincere hope that this indication of the fine interest in the church at West Bethel will inspire and encourage others who have been less faithful to join us at their next opportunity.

Sunday, July 26, we shall observe the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper at our morning worship hour. This is always a time of rededication and renewal, when once again we seek to make our lives a fitting living memorial of Him who gave of His "body and blood" that we might have a better knowledge of God's love. Let us prayerfully prepare for this Communion Service, remembering at all times: "Him that cometh to Jesus shall in no wise be cast out."

Is the "will of God" being done today, here on earth? Can we know God's will for us? Can that will be put into practice anywhere and everywhere? We pray, in our Lord's Prayer, "Thy kingdom come, THY WILL BE DONE, on earth as it is in heaven." . . . What do we mean? This shall be our theme at our 7:30 service this Sunday, as we continue our study of our Lord's Prayer.

Remember: the Hi-School Fellowship meets every Thursday at 7:30; Sunday School for our youth.
